

GSB 2013 - Junior Advising Program

How an Accounting student should list their education

Remember, the Accounting firms just want to see that you plan on being CPA qualified if you want to work for them. So, whether you're pursuing the 150-credit undergraduate program or one of the dual degree programs, they want to see it listed like this:

Education:

Fordham University Bronx, NY
Gabelli School of Business
Degree Expected May 2014
Bachelor of Science in Public Accountancy (150 Credits)
Cumulative GPA: x.x

Or

Education:

Fordham University New York, NY
Graduate School of Business Administration
Degree Anticipated May 2014
Master of Business Administration in Professional Accounting

Gabelli School of Business
Degree Expected May 2013
Bachelor of Science in Public Accounting
Cumulative GPA: x.x

*Your masters degree
could also be:
Master of Science in Professional
Accounting,
Master of Science in Professional
Taxation
or
Master of Business Administration (with a Concentration in...)*

*Your bachelors degree
could also be:
Bachelor of Science in Applied
Accounting and Finance
or
Bachelor of Science in Accounting
Information Systems*

If you'd like someone to review your resume before you send it off, feel free to stop by the GSB Dean's Office (Faber 359) or the Career Services Center (McGinley 224).

Good luck!
