Who are our CFA instructors?

Levels II and III: O. Nathan Ronen, CFA, is the lead CFA instructor at NYSSA and has helped over 20,000 candidates to pass the CFA exams. He has been teaching CFA Levels I, II and III for over 16 years and has a unique understanding of each level. Ronen's knowledge and real-world finance experience helps bring the theory to life. Ronen worked as a supervisory analyst training government regulators, an accounting analyst, and a corporate finance analyst. His professional experience encompasses well-known organizations such as New York Life, NASD, and Salomon Brothers. Ronen has taught courses in finance and other investment-related subjects in Johns Hopkins University's MBA program and at Strayer College. He holds an MBA in finance and accounting from the University of Chicago.

Level I: Carl R. Crego, PhD, CFA, has been helping his students reach their goal of earning the coveted CFA charter for the past 24 years. Crego has extensive experience in teaching all three levels of the CFA curriculum. He also served as a technical editor for the content development of Kaplan Schweser CFA Level I Study Notes. Crego received his MBA and PhD from the George Washington University and taught undergraduate and graduate finance courses at Pace University for seven academic years. He took a leave of absence to join the New York Society of Security Analysts (NYSSA) as educational consultant. Crego was one of the most popular instructors at NYSSA and helped develop their educational programs from short preview courses to a full range of continuing education and review courses, including the popular CFA review program.
