So what happens in the recruiting process?

Applying

- Review the job descriptions, including qualifications, available through your school's career services center, and apply to the one that best suits your skills and interests.
- Follow the instructions in the job description and complete the online application for employment.

Initial selection

- ► We review your resume, application and qualifications.
- Our recruiting team selects students for an initial interview based on academic background, extracurricular activities and work experience.

First interview

 Usually a one-on-one interview on campus is a great way for us to get to know you, understand your career interests and qualifications and evaluate your potential future with Ernst & Young.

Second interview

We invite top candidates from the initial interview to a second round, which typically takes place in the office location where you hope to work.

Hiring decision

- We usually make a decision within two weeks of the second interview.
- ▶ We know that waiting to hear can be tough so we let you know as soon as we can.

Ongoing contact

- Our recruiters and professional staff will stay in touch with you throughout the recruiting process.
- ► Feel free to ask guestions or request additional information.
