

FORDHAM UNIVERSITY
THE JESUIT UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK

Fordham Wall Street Council (FWSC)

History, Mission and Purpose

The Fordham Wall Street Council (FWSC) was formed in 2010 to foster collaboration among business students, faculty, staff, alumni and friends interested in the various sectors of the capital markets. The council strives to strengthen the educational and fundraising mission of the University and to enhance career opportunities for students and alumni around the world.

There are many benefits to joining the FWSC. Participants meet and mentor top students and help equity research groups and student investment portfolios. There is also the opportunity to give back to Fordham, both by helping to educate the next generation of financial leaders and by supporting the programs that make Fordham one of the best business schools in New York City.

The council is also a way to get involved with business faculty to enhance their academic research efforts. Involvement will help boost the business school's visibility and mission. Participation is also a good way to network with peers and to enhance one's own career opportunities.

For more information on how to get involved, please contact Mary Ann Routledge at (212) 636-7184 or mroutledge@fordham.edu, or Jon Liberatore at (646) 312-8268 or liberatore@fordham.edu.
