

FORDHAM
Graduate School of Social Service

IDENTITY AND SOCIAL JUSTICE: Can we all get along?

Sponsored by Fordham Graduate School of Social Service (GSS)

This event will include a panel discussion and networking. The central theme will be the joining of peoples and causes in working for social justice. Often misunderstandings arise, resulting in fractioned efforts working for systematic change. Panelists will share their experiences and insights on standing against oppression and navigating the resistance.

PANELISTS

Frank Weston, Philosopher, Founder and President International Multiracial Shared Cultural Organization (IMSCO), NGO Specialized ECOSOC / United Nations

Allison L. Treviño, LCSW, PhD Candidate, Fordham GSS

Christine V Bell, MSCJ, MSW Candidate, Fordham GSS

Ricardo Guzman Erazo, LMSW

Elisa Lee, Elementary School Teacher, MAT, Network for Newark-Montclair Urban Teacher Residency Program (NMUTR)

MODERATOR

Peter B. Vaughan, PhD, Dean Emeritus, Fordham GSS

NETWORKING FACILITATOR

Ravi Bhasin, LCSW-R; PhD Candidate, Fordham GSS with Cross-Cultural Clinical Skills and Shared Governance

April 23, 2018

6:00pm – 8:00pm

McMahon Hall, Room 109

113 W 60th Street

New York, NY 10023

2 CEH Available to Licensed Social Workers

To register email identityevent2018@gmail.com

Manhattan | Westchester | Long Island | Online

Organized by Sarah Chung and Peiyu Xu, Fordham MSW Candidates and IMSCO Interns
Supported by Racial Awareness Collective for Everyone